

The College serves as resource centre for research in the broad area of rural development focusing on local level agricultural planning,revitalizing financing institutions and rural marketing that would suit farming community. The research programmes of the College consist of PG research and Faculty reserach. The Faculty of the College are actively engaged in a number of research projects funded by internal and external agencies.

---